

Conflict of Interest Disclosure Form

It is the policy of the International Journal on Recent Trends in Business and Tourism (IJRTBT) to ensure all authors disclose to the readers any real or apparent conflict(s) of interest that may have a direct bearing on the subject matter of the article.

It is intended that any potential conflict (financial or otherwise) should be identified openly so that the readers may form their own judgment about the article with the full disclosure of the facts. Authors must state all their sources of funding and any other financial and personal relationships that might bias their work. It is for the readers to determine whether the authors' outside interest may reflect a possible bias in the exposition of the conclusions presented. The editor's reserve the right does not publish if a sponsor asserted control over the authors' right to publish their results.

All authors need to complete and submit this form when submitting manuscript. Disclosures and signatures from all authors on one form are preferred. If this is not possible, however, separate forms will be accepted.
